D. G. Hunnewell, the violinist, is preparing to give a musical entertainment at the assembly hall in the school house on Friday night, September 27. He will be assisted by local talent and the members of his class. There is in prospect a rare musical entertainment for our citizens.

Rev. J. H. Henry last Sunday evening held services at Greenlaw's mill. The meeting was preceded by a short song service, and was attended by nearly everyone in the settlement. Arrangements are being made whereby Rev. Henry and Rev. Logie will each hold services there once during each month.

The game of baseball between the Flagstaff and Winslow nines on Sunday resulted in a score of 21 to 8 in favor of Winslow. The same players took part in Sunday's game as in previous games. The Winslow boys had been putting in a lot of time practicing since the last game, while Flagstaff had an over-supply of confidence in their ability to beat the visitors without doing any practice work.

Buy a Brownie kodak, $1, at Babbitt Bros.

Oscar Verkamp, accompanied by Raymond, son of David Babbitt, left Thursday for Cincinnati. Master Raymond will attend school there during the year.

W. G. Burns, section director of the climate and crop service for Arizona, is here inspecting the Flagstaff weather bureau station. He left to-day for a trip to the Grand Canyon of Arizona. The trip will be made by team over the old stage route.

The stage running between Dewey and Camp Verde was struck by lightning last Saturday. One of the horses was instantly killed. The driver was badly burned, his shoes and stockings being burned from his feet. The passengers were all more or less shocked by the electric current, but none seriously injured.—Journal-Miner.

Those desiring to take the McCormick Gold Cure treatment for alcoholism should make arrangements at once, as I will remain in Flagstaff only a short time. Those wishing to take the famous treatment should not miss this opportunity. Of the large number of patients treated in Arizona in the past two years there has not been a single relapse. Remember, no cure, no pay. R. Edmonson.

Louis D. Yeager and Miss Anna M. Miller were married at Tempe on Wednesday. The happy couple arrived here last night and will make this place their home. Miss Miller has during the past three years been a teacher in the Flagstaff public schools. Mr. Yeager is a prominent sheep raiser and his bands range in this county. Both parties have many friends in Flagstaff who will be glad to hear of their happy union.

C. F. Morgan, wife and child are stopping here this week. Mr. Morgan was at one time a resident of Flagstaff, but left here to travel for the firm of Schilling & Co. of San Francisco. He then engaged in business in Phoenix, selling out three years ago to search for gold on the Klondike. Mrs. Morgan accompanied her husband to Dawson, taking part in all the hardships of the long trip. At Dawson their little son, now two and a half years old, was born. A stay of a year was enough in Alaska and Mr. Morgan returned with his family and resumed his former position with Schilling & Co.

Born—On August 8, 1900, to the wife of M. A. Black, a daughter.

Judge R. E. Sloan, T. C. Job, Rev. Henry B. Long of Prescott were passengers on No. 2 Wednesday night, bound to Canyon Diablo. From that point they go to the Moqui snake dance as the guests of Fred W. Volz. Gov. Murphy and E. S. Clark were also expected to join the party, but were prevented from doing so by circumstances unforeseen.

O. P. Harding has the contract from the board of supervisors for painting and repairing the roof at the court house. He has erected a strong, heavy scaffold on the west side of the court house for the purpose of taking up material. Capt. Harding's work has caused people to ask all kinds of questions in regard to it. It is for the purpose of painting the roof, that's all.

J. W. Francis returned Saturday last from a trip to the mines in the Buckskin mountains, north of the Colorado river, in this county. He says the Coconino Copper Company have a good showing of ore. They have done considerable development work. They have a smelter, but the ore cannot be profitably worked by the smelting process, and the company is now putting in a Neal process leaching plant, which will save all but a small percentage of the ore value. The company is pushing the work of development, and they have already spent a large sum of money on their properties, which embrace about all the copper claims in that vicinity. There is plenty of fine pine timber and juniper in the Buckskins, and there will be no lack of water.
